Saturday Kitchen - Volume 3

Directed by

As seen on BBC, Saturday Kitchen is now an international sensation!

Saturday Kitchen, Britain's favorite cooking show is here to showcase some amazing cuisine and personalities from around the world. Each week, James Martin invites some of the best chefs from around the world to cook up a storm, and then he pairs their fabulous food with wines chosen by the Saturday Kitchen wine experts. In addition to that, he chats with some of the entertainment world's favorite personalities. Each special guest is faced with the "Heaven or Hell" challenge: will James cook with their most favorite or most hated ingredient at the end of the show? Along the way, there are the hilarious antics between the two guest chefs as they not only create their own masterpieces but also attempt to beat the clock in the famous omelette challenge!
